

10. Law

Note

- Law students use the OSCOLA method of referencing.
- APA referencing is an American system of referencing and does not have a set way of referencing UK legal publications. Legal references should not be included in the APA reference list.
- When the act, bill, statutory instrument or law (cases) report is first mentioned the full citation is given.

10.1 Cases (law reports)

In-text citation

First mention (Donoghue v Stevenson [1932] AC 562)

Subsequent mentions (Donoghue v Stevenson, 1932)

10.2 Acts of Parliament

Note

- The APA manual states that you are not required to include Acts of Parliament in the reference list. All that is required is an in-text citation.
